

Water disinfection

Swimming pool water provides a favourable environment for various micro-organisms (bacteria, fungi, algae). Only a very few of such bacteria and fungi cause illness and a risk of infection for bathers, but through rapid reproduction even these bacteria can cause slimy deposits and water turbidity. It is therefore necessary to maintain the hygienically perfect condition of the water by disinfecting it effectively.